TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Audley Green Shot and Instantly Killed by Julian Throckmorton Tuesday Morning.

Audley Green, aged 20 years, was shot and almost instantly killed by Julian Throckmorton about ten o'clock Tuesday morning, in the saloon of M. L. Woods, on Main street, between Seventh and Eighth.

Throckmorton shot five times with a hammerless Smith & Wesson pistol, every shot taking effect. After the first shot took effect Green did not utter a word, he slowly sank to the floor and expired in a few moments. Green and his brother, Blanton Green, occupy a room over the Woods saloon as sleeping apartments, and earlier in the day, Audley Green, came from his bedroom through a stairway to Main street. Seated in the doorway was Julian Throckmorton. It is said Green with a vile oath kicked Throckmorton and ejected him from the doorstep; that Green was told by a bystander that he should not have treated Throckmorton in that manner, and that he went and apologized.

Eye-witnesses vary in telling of the affair. In the main they agree that Throckmorton left after Green had kicked him and returned about 10 o'clock. He entered the saloon took a drink of water at the bar and walked into a rear room, shortly re-entered where Green was talking to J. R. Butler at the bar, and Ollie Starke, bartender, was near by. Throckmorton advanced and greeted Green as follows: "You s— of a b—, you kicked me," and commenced firing. Starke grappled with Throckmorton but could not secure the weapon in time to prevent the tragedy. After the shooting Throckmorton walked out of the saloon and surrendered to Jailer George W. Judy, who was passing on the opposite side of the street at the time.

Julian Throckmorton is about 35 years old, and the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Throckmorton, of South Main street. He is an industrious and agreeable young man when not in his cups and the deplorable affair is regretted. His mother, a most estimable woman, formerly a Miss Brooks, has been in poor health for some time and is now quite ill. She has not been told of her son's trouble, nor will she be, as it would only hasten her death which we understand cannot be far off from the condition she is now in.

Young Throckmorton was married in December 1899, to Miss Florence Current. She secured a divorce March 17, 1904. They have one son, Charles Throckmorton, Jr., aged six years.

Young Mr. Green was a son of Mr. Robert Green, and a brother of Mrs. Hamlet Sharp, of Maysville, Mrs. Henry Isgrig and Miss Edna Green, of Lexington, and Blanton Green, of Paris. His mother died when he was quite young and he was raised by his sister, Mrs. Sharp, and had but recently come here to from Maysville to live.

The funeral services were held at the grave in the Paris cemetery, Wednesday afternoon, at 3:30, conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford.

Little Frances Ann Wilson Dies.

Frances Ann, the bright and sweet little fourteen months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Wilson, breathed her last on Tuesday morning, after short illness with inflammation of the bowels. Here just long enough to entwine herself around the hearts of parents and relatives with cords of steel, then to be taken is truly sad. But when we remember that "He who giveth, taketh away," we can only bow our heads in humble submission. The little rosebud that bloomed and faded in her earthly home is now in full and everlasting bloom in her Heavenly home, for has He not said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven."

The funeral services were held at the residence yesterday morning at 9:30, conducted by Rev. Dr. E. H. Rutherford, assisted by Elder Carey E. Morgan. The pall-bearers were: Dr. H. M. Yancy, Dr. C. G. Daugherty, Ford Brent, John Woodford.

SENSATION AT CARLISLE.

Jailor's Son Alleged to Have Hauled Liquor in the Sheriff's Wagon to the Local Option Town.

The Good Citizen's League, an anti-liquor organization of Carlisle, has called an indignation meeting of the citizens of Nicholas county at the court house in Carlisle next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of expressing their disapproval of the course pursued by various county officers in their failure to control the sale of liquors under the recent city law forbidding such sales.

The matter was precipitated by the seizure by the city officers of two barrels of whiskey in a wagon said to belong to the sheriff of that county and alleged to have been driven by a son of the jailer. The officers are accused of having full knowledge of the violations and of failing to take any steps to prevent violations, and the temperance people are much incensed at the statement that two of the county officers should seem to be helping the liquor people in their effort to evade the law. The thing that irritates them is the allegation that the jailer's son was driving the sheriff's team engaged in hauling whiskey to a blind tiger in a prohibition town. The whiskey was brought from Cynthiana and got into Carlisle at 1:20 a. m. Saturday.

A still later telegram from Carlisle says: "The citizens of Carlisle will hold their indignation meeting condemning the illegal traffic in liquor in local districts on Sunday, July 1, in the court house yard in Carlisle, County Jailer Kookendoffer, having refused the use of the court house for such purposes on Sunday. Feeling is very high."

May Force Him to Run.

The belief in New York political circles, despite denials, is that Roosevelt, by his attitude on the questions of monopolies and the tariff, has created a situation which may force him again to be the standard bearer of his party, especially in view of the Bryan boom.
